NEWS OF THE MORNING.

In San Francisco yesterday, Andrew Le maitre, a native of New Orleans, committed A. A. Mace, a lawyer of San Francisco, died suddenly on Wednesday.

The Oregon State Grange has adopted a petition asking Cong ess to appropriate $150,000 for the construction of locks and a canal a the cas ades of the Columbia river; also that a sp cial engineer be appointed to prosecute the work.

By the stoppage of the Ophir and Consolidated Virginia 1,600 men have been thrown out of emplo ment

A part of the material necessary for the completion of the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad to the city has arrived and the remainder will reach Santa Monica in a few

The rumor that fires were raging in the lower levels of some of the principal mines on the Comstock lode is without foundation. A Wa'sonville dispatch says that last evening about seven o'clock a man named Charles Kulitz was shot in the arm, while sitting in his bar-room, by some unknown party from the street. As yet the fiend has not been discovered.

There is a prospect that the Beecher-Tilton farce will be again placed on the boards. A City of Mexico dispatch says the Chamber of Deputies was prorogued on the 15th inst. The extraordinary powers of the Executive were voted by 139 to 14.

Advices from Gualalupora, Mexico, say that five of the participants in the murder of the American preacher, John L. Stephens, have been executed.

In St. Louis, yesterday, a young man named Fogg shot and dangerously wounded Miss Pauline Pachmons and then mortally stabbed h mself. Cause-the turbulent course of true

Yesterday the remains of a man and a roman were found in the ruins at Virginia City. The name of the man is supposed to be Murtin Husker, of Southern California. Piper's Opera Troupe at Virginia City lost everything by the fire. Piper will immediately rebuild the Opera House and keep all Winter engagements. Two trains heavily loaded with people left Virginia City yesterday for California.

Mr. James A. McCrorey of Thomaston, Georgia who has been a constant reuler of the HERALD for the past year, arrived in our city yesterday and expresses himself well pleased the leaders of sect are indirectly charwith our city and valley so far as he

AN exchange calls Moody and SAN-KEY, the greatest of modern humbugs. We have seen no evidence to prove that this pair of humbugs are entitled to more than the general consideration bestowed on the great throng of humbuggers.

THERE is not a more law abiding in the ability of the people to govern or peaceable community in the State than that of Los Angeles. We cannot escape the common lot of all large and thriving cities-the visits of rough and dangerous characters. But our officers are faithful and vigilant and all may rest assured that themselves and their property will be protected; the laws enforced and offenders punished. We make these remarks in contradiction of a two line libel on the community in last evening's Express. In Maryland all public officers are required to periodically give full, complete and sati-factory accounts of their stewardship. If their reports are unsatisfactory they are given a specified number of days to make good their deficit and if they fail in this their names, place of residence and the character of their offense is published in the papers and playcarded throughout the State that the people may know who has been tried and found wanting. If this law prevailed in California the newspapers would have a fine advertising patronage and the name of the black sheep would be

As the details and consequences of the great fire in Virginia City reach us we begin to realize the extent of suffering and privation to which the people of the unfortunate town are subjected. In a more congenial climate the suffering would be comparatively light but the atmosphere of the high altitude in which the city is located, is at this season of the year biting cold and snow and rain storms are of frequent occurence. Hundreds of thinly clad women and children were exposed to the snow storm which prevailed there on Wednesday night and their sufferings were beyond the conception of those whose homes are in a clime where snow never falls and intense cold is never felt.

Deny the Charge.

Some of the journals in the middle portion of the State deny that there is a feeling of jealousy existing in their gap in railroad communication be section against Southern California. We would be pleased to know that this was the case, but unfortunately road now terminates at Redding in the evidence is against it. The Sacramento Union before it changed hands indulged in many flings at this extends no further South than Oakpart of the State, and was never so land in the Umpqua Valley. prosperity of Southern California. People will come and see for themselves, and that is all that is necessary to insure their permanent residence among us. In a complaining spirit the journals in question say Los Angeles valley has been more thoroughly advertised than any other portion of the State. We are willing to concede this, and the fact that it is so is evidence of the enterprise and industry of the people and their local journals. But in sending abroad information concerning our courty we have avoided misrepresentation and over-color and made only such statements as are verified by those who come and see for themselves. What we have done may be done by any other section of the State. There is good land and good opportunities all over California.

Church and State.

It will not be the fault of the dissension makers if the next great internal commotion which shall shake our country from centre to circumference is not a religious struggle-a bloody contest between sects and denominations who preach peace on earth; good will to men. The address of the President at Des Moines in which he predicted a religious war, aroused discussion and sectarian organs and ministers have already extended argument to heated debate and acrimonious dispute. The common intelligence will not readily accept the predictions of the President as probably true. It is difficult to imagine that in a country where the line between church and State is so clearly and distinctly drawn -where the barrier between the two is so broad and high that the architects of our government believed it mpassible-where universal liberty is the birthright of the people; where re ligious toleration is the broadest in the world; whereevery man and woman has a guaranteed right to worship God according to the dictates of his or her own conscience-that the followers of creeds should cut each other's throats for the gospel's sake. Such a disaster seems impossible under a government where free schools are an integral part of the super-structure; where the church spires of every creed sect and denomination point heavenward and when all are equally protected. Yet the Chief Executive of the land has asserted that such a contest will yet be waged and upon his hint ging each other with an intent to bring it upon us. We attach no importance to these predictions. De mogogues and fanatics may labor for their fruition but when the masses are the masters and those masters are educated and intelligent; where every voter reads and thinks for himself, demagoguism and fanaticism do not flourish. We have an abiding faith

"The Santa Monica Outlook says the Los Angeles and independ nos railr ad can always beh lags a check on not only the Sou hera radific but all other roads that may hereafter be built. That depends on who owns it." The above item appeared in the HERALD some days ago and would never have been thought of by us again had we not found it doing duty as a text for a column editorial in a iate number of the Santa Monica Outlook. Our seaside cotemporary waxes wrathily indignant and indignantly wrathy over that innocent paragraph and proceeds to manufacture of it an insinuation that the present ownership of the Los Angeles and Independence Railroad is liable to change hands sometime within the next five hundred years. Really we intended no such insinuation. We are ty no means ignorant of the fact that the present ownership and management as immutable as the universal and as inchangeable as the laws of the Medes is all powerful, but we also know that it will not purchase a thing that is Signed, J. C. Corry, Mayor." The hands. On the subject of the great value of the road we agree once more with our sprightly though we fear a ittle over sensitive seaside cotemporary. If we had not foreseen the beneficial results which the road would work for Los Angeles Valley we should not so long, so persistently and so tirelessly advocated its construction. The credit of having suggested, inaugerated and worked up this railroad enterprise has been accorded to the HERALD and we are proud of our work. It is a good thing and we can hardly express our gratitude for the approval of our efforts by the Outlook and other journals.

THE indications are that the Central Pacific Railroad Company are preparing for an early closing of the tween San Francisco and Portland, Oregon. The California and Oregon the extreme upper end of the Sacramento Valley and the Oregon road

EDITOR HERALD: We have some eighty-six lawyers in the respective in this city. By the different conveyances leading to this city we think it souls. A Rough Essimate of the Insurance Losses. SAN FRANCISCO, October 28th .- So far as we have been able to learn, the Home Mutual and State Investment Companies are the heaviest losers. We have taken considerable pains to obtain from the agents doing business in Virginia City a statement of what their respective losses amount to, so far as they are able to judge at present, with the following result: The agents of the Commercial Union Assurance of London, the American Central of St. Louis, and the Merchants' Fire Insurance of New York, have not yet been able to make any estimate of their losses. The total risks of these companies in Virginia amount to nearly $200,000. The agent of the Underwriters' agency of New York, the Phœnix of Brooklyn, the Manhattan of New York, and the Home of New Jersey report that neither of these companies had any written risk | the devastated streets found bayonets within the burned district. The State Investment Insurance Company have made no estimate of their losses as yet. It is supposed to be heavy, as their risks are large. The total risks of the Union Insurance Company in the burned district amount to $11,000. An adjustment was sent up this morning. The Liverpool and London and Globe had $10,000 written on the Ophir hoisting works. Their total loss is represented to be in this one item. The total risks of the Imperial of London and the Queen of Liverpool in Virginia City amount to $100,000, evenly divided between the two companies. The agents of the Imperial and Queen of London expect definite advices this evening, but up to 2 P. M. nothing had been received to change

The Virginians Still Alive. VIRGINIA CITY, October 28th .- The his body at the lower edge of the Evening Chronicle furnishes the following report:

"Virginia feels in better spirit today. The ruined walls, smoking heaps of debris, piles of gnarled iron and small mountains of broken brick are becoming familiar to the eye, and the man who yesterday had to stop and scratch his head ere he could pick ball, the horses ian away, throwing a out a street from among the ruined number out. that Smith does take comfort in the loss of his neighbor's house is none the less true. Men are ashamed to complain when they know that every me about them is in as sad a plight as themselves. In the midst of its ashes, therefore, Virginia is cheerful, and instead of crying over spilt milk is bravely setting about to build up igain what the fire has laid waste. The energy of the business men of the city is remarkable. Before the wrecks of their three and four story brick buildings are done smoking they have set small armies of laborers to work clearing away rubbish and putting up temporary shanties. Stuck up within a few feet of the red-hot smoldering piles of debris are little written notices informing the public that so-andso are not by any means dead yet, but will resume business in a day or two. Others still more enterprising have had lumber hauled to the ground and with all dispatch are erecting buildings and preparing to begin business again at the earliest possible moment. On C street the Lafayette market ran up a shed yesterday and last night, and to-day has been doing a rushing business in chops and steaks. The Snug saloon has reopened in a little corner shanty, and over a bar formed of two rough boards dispenses whisky to the Virginia sufferers at the generous tariff of one bit a drink.

business, and in those of the Rawbone variety the improvement in the class of customers proves that the fire, while leveling brick and stone, did equally as effective work on the social lines. Gas being one of the departed luxuries, candles in elegant sticks composed of small blocks of wood and three nails grace the tables of the eating houses. The waiters are saucy and excited, and the importance of the proprietors can only be equaled by the dignity of a special policeman. Homeless people who the night before had camped on the hill-sides, in the old tunnels, and bivouacked behind boulders and piles of sage-brush devoted the hours of yesterday to a search for more comfortable quarters, and generally succeeded. To the credit of human nature it may be set down that not a single instance is known where the doors of those who escaped ruin have been closed against the home less. Every house in town is a sort ble-loaded, of course, and half the pop- person. ulation sleep on shake-downs, eat where they can and keep up an amazing cheerfulness. After dark the rain changed to snow, and it seemed as if heaven were determined to send loons remaining of the prosperous hundreds of Monday did a tremendous business. Mixed drinks were generally barred, as the press of business allowed no time for such concoctions, and the Virginia sufferers had to content themselves with uncompromising straight. The sufferers were deprived of even their whisky after 8 o'clock, for at that hour Gen. John B. Winters detailed squads of men who marched about peremptorily closing all saloons. This move, though rather summary, was a good one. A great many men had taken more liquor than was good for them, and fights were becoming too frequent for the comfort of sober citizens. The military took entire charge of the town and preserved property from thieves, who were numerous, and during the day carried off a good deal of property from the sites of burned buildings. OUT OF REACH.

We two wandered by the bay, Quietly the water lay,
Quiet was hesky,
And my darling stood and gazed,
With her fair face unward raised:
"Would the stars might be Nearer earth!" said sne. "It li me, tell me. O my love, Why are stars so far above?"

> On the shore we found a boat: "Come, sw etheart," said I;
> "O'er the water let us float,
> "There the stars are algh" So she leaned her o er the side. G z ng down into the tide, "Would that stars might be Nearer ear h." said she,

"Tell me, true love, if you know, Why are stars sof ir bolow?"

The Chinese Festival. The Chinese festival closes this morning, after its three days and four nights of strange religion. Yesterday and last night the priests were most earnest and the masses most devout. The priests kneeled and chanted the blue gowned boys bowea, and the rank and file looked on with great interest. The procession of priests and musicians made a solemn tour around Chinatown, and spent considfor the dead. In one or two places the prayers were supplemented with elegant spreads for the nourishment of the disembodied Chinamen, and the evil spirits that are supposed to trouble the celestial existence of the deceased were quieted by the burning of prayers, the ringing of gongs and the firing of bombs. One of the latter got into the little shed devoted to the shelter of the effifly of the black devil and it was not long until his satanic majesty was burned to ashes, The event caused considerable alarm. but the shed being of green lumber did not take fire and soon the Chinese were going around congratulating each other; "Devil burned, good luckee, good luckie" seeming to think that his accidental destruction was a good omen. Last night at a late hour the two large figures that guarded the entrance to the Joss House were burned in the street, amid loud din, hideous noises, monotonous chants and screeching music. To norrow, the Joss House will be pulled down, and the sue warrants for the fifth section of permanent ornaments shipped by the priests to San Francisco. The expense of all this to the Chinamen has been very heavy. The three priests were paid $500 and their expenses, to come here during the fe-tival; the musicians were paid $150 and expenses, and the use of the two great figures of the door-keepers of the portals of heaven, cost $100 and freight. Altogether it was a grand success, though it used up about $5,000 of John's surplus funds, but then it is a great relief to the Mongolian to think that non-arrival of Miss Nichols, but after he has got a religious hold on the devif for even a short period.

WONDERFUL

A Sewing Machine Factory Turus out One Hundred Machines per day More than it is Capacitated to Make!!!

THE SINCER M'F'C CO'S Sewing Machine Agent has no doubt that the Remington agent justly anticipates harder names for his "pet" machine when it is understood that it is neither "The Singer Improved" nor an "improvement on the Singer." By referring to one of our dailies I find that this soft, noiseless, "pet" machine has been introduced into Los Angeles at a much earlier date than the agent states. (This may be owing to a defect of memory).

The Remington agent has made a rather startling statement to the public in his latest advertisement to this effect—that the Remington S. M. Co. in the manufacture of their tamily machines have increased from 49,100 to 85,160 in the past four months, and in the same paragraph says that the factory is only capacitated to make 250 per day; thus allowing every working day during said period I find that he gives the "Remington folks" eredit for 160 machines more per day than the Factory, with all its "large taclifies," can produce—a pretty hard strain on the most fertile imagination.

The Remington Agent asks the "Singer folks" a very important question, namely: Do they base the merits of their machines upon the sales of former years? As I am the only representative of the Singer Mfg. Co. in this county I shall answer the question. The singer Mfg. Co. points with just pride not only to their sales in the past but also to the fact that those sales have constantly increased up to the present. I hold to the rule that the c mpar-live sales of a machine constitutes a correct criterion of its merits and a true index of its popularity.

I shall have no difficulty in tracing back the history of the Singer Sewing Machine, for

It Never Changed its Original Name, And in showing from the best authenticated public reports that it excels all others for all purposes, I will only go back to the year 1571. In that year the Singer Mnfg. Co. sold

181,260 Machines. in 1872 they sold

219,758:

In 1878 their sales reached 232,444.

And the authenticated report for the year 1874 (the latest obtainable) shows that the LATEST IMPROVED NEW FAMILY SING-ER MACHINE Stands Unrivaled on this Continent.

The following is a correct statement from said report: THE SINGER MANUFACTURING CO.
